Children increase skills in the selected area. The alternative curriculum has been chosen based on clubs within the community so children can continue to develop skills and from asking children about their interests. Staff have an increased knowledge of G&T, disadvantaged and SEND children within the subject. This will impact on greater provision for these children in the following years making it sustainable. Sustainability: Teachers receive planning and can use these skills / lessons again as the bank of resources build. Team coaching within sessions and sessions are planned together with the Teacher and Specialist.
